Are Blacks Routinely Harassed at RTA Bus Station?

The Black Voice News

RIVERSIDE

Henry Holmes was visiting the Riverside bus station on September 28, 1999 when he was approached by a Riverside police officer, wearing badge number 607. The officer asked him, "What are you doing here?" Holmes responded, "I came down to see a friend."

Holmes said that the officer then accused him of being under the influence of drugs. The officer requested he close his eyes as a test for drug use.

Holmes said he told the officer before and after the test he had never used illegal drugs. The officer then instructed Holmes to empty the contents from his pocket onto the hood of the patrol car. After this, Holmes was frisked and told to sit on the curb and remove his shoes and socks. After about five minutes another officer arrived on the scene and they told Holmes to leave the premise.

"This is not the first time this has happened to me and others who ride the Riverside transit system," said Holmes. "This is nothing but the police and Riverside Transit Security harassment of innocent Black citizens."

Mr. Holmes said, he is going to report this and other incidents to the U. S. Justice Department for further investigation.

SCE Public Affairs Manager to Retire

The Black Voice News

INLAND EMPIRE

Bill Thomas, a public affairs manager in Southern California Edison's eastern region, will retire from the company, having served the utility for 28 years.

"Bill has been instrumental in maintaining community and business relationships in the Inland Empire and desert areas -- the fastest growing region in Edison's service territory," said Bob Foster, SCE's senior vice president for public affairs. "We'll miss him for his experience, as well as his congenial manner and spirit."

A well-known business and civic leader in the Inland Empire and the African American community, Thomas has served as the company's local government and community liaison for the cities of Fontana, Rialto, Colton, Highland, and Grand Terrace for the past three years. From 1990 until 1996, in a similar position, Thomas served the cities of Compton, Lynwood, Paramount, and Carson.

With Thomas' retirement, the cities of Colton and Highland will be served by Public Affairs Manager Ray Gonzalez, and Rialto and Grand Terrace will be served by Beverly Powell. Cheryl Karns-Avent will serve

Taft T. Newman Dies Suddenly

The Black Voice News

SAN BERNARDINO

By Cheryl Brown

Shock and sadness hit the community of Cal State San Bernardino, Ecclesia Christian Fellowship Church, and the many people in town who knew Taft Newman. Newman, 56, died after a short bout with cancer on September 18, at Kaiser Permanente Medical Center in Fontana, CA.

Newman was the EOP Director at Cal State and a Elder at Ecclesia. Love poured out as about 800 filled the pews of the church for the 21/2 hour long service. He lived his funeral sermon and had admonished Pastor Josh Beckley not to preach about him but to preach the Word of God. Preach is what he did but he could not honor Newman's request not to speak about him because he was not only a good Christian family man he was his best friend. Christians who spoke said they didn't understand God's decision at first in taking such a wonderful man away. "I cried all the way home. Then God gave me the scripture, Genesis 5:21-24 Enoch walked with God and Taft walked with God and then he was not, because God just took him to heaven. I focused on the "not" he was here and then he was not. But then the spirit of God came and said I was focusing on the wrong thing. I should focus on he walked with God." He spoke of the examples of how God's plan worked through Taft.

Dr. Albert K. Karnig, President of Cal State had know Newman only the two years he has been in town but could attest to the help and attention he gave to students who many times could not have come to college if it were not for the EOP Programs. "He was a shepherd for thousands of students because he knew a mind was a terrible thing to waste. He worked continuously to change lives. He was a man with Thomas, 50, held several jobs. He joined the company in 1971 as a "groundman" (electrical helper) working with line crews. He later worked in customer service as a meter reader, field service representative, and supervisor before joining public affairs.

At age 10, Thomas moved with his family to Southern California from his native home of Hope, Ark., the same birthplace as President Clinton.

City Councilman Has Surgery

By Cheryl Brown

Ameal Moore, second Ward City Councilman is home resting after surgery that will reportedly keep him out of the City Council for four to six weeks said his wife Henrietta. "He is doing very, very well. The Lord has really blessed him. He doesn't even look sick!" she exclaimed. She was reflecting on how far the Lord had brought them. Not wanting to be specific about the surgery she said he will talk about it when he is fully recovered.

"The important thing is his family and the church Second Baptist Church are praying for him. The family our three boys, Steve, Jeff and Carl were there to support him during his surgery." The only problem she could find is how to keep him down. "The Doctor said he couldn't drive but he didn't say he go any place," she said.

Last year this time Moore along with fellow colleagues were fired upon by an ex-city employee. Four were hurt. Moore was not one of them. He was however visiting the Mayor and Chuck Beaty in the hospital. This year he was released on the one year anniversary of the shooting.

Support Officer Who Blew Whistle on Police Racism

The Black Voice News

"If it'll make the family feel any better, we shot her with black bullets."

On Sunday, October 3, Black Riverside, California police officer Rene Rodriguez told a national audience on CBS's 60 Minutes how police officers physically abuse and racially profile African-Americans and Latinos. He hopes that his willingness to blow the whistle on the blatant racial practices will encourage other officers to speak out against police misconduct.

Rodriguez has suffered tremendously for blowing the whistle. He has been subjected to verbal taunts, physical harassment, ostracism, and refused back-up support during patrols. He was placed on leave in March, 1999. He has been denied pay and health benefits. Officer Rodriguez is financially destitute. He has a wife and three children to support. By contrast, the four White officers who shot Black female motorist Tyisha Miller received full pay while they were on leave following the shooting. They have also received full legal and financial backing from the police union as well as many private citizens since their firing in June.

"Rodriguez has put his life on the line," says Earl Ofari Hutchinson, director of the National Alliance for Positive Action, "to blow the whistle on the racist practices within a major police department. He deserves our full support."

GUEST EDITORIAL SUPPORT SENATE BILL 989

SB 989 by Senator Byron Sher marks an important step forward in California's efforts to evaluate the alternatives for coming up with a new formulation for gasoline.

The bill ensures that there will be no loss in air quality in the process of carrying out the governor's order to eliminate MTBE as a gasoline additive in California. That's especially important now. Maintaining the gains that have already been achieved under the Clean Air Act and the Reformulated Gasoline Program is critical to the success of California's long term battle against smog.

Meeting those high standards won't be easy. But after all the controversy over MTBE, we cannot afford to choose an alternative until we are assured that it won't create still more problems of its own and that all the risks associated with its use have been thoroughly evaluated. That's why SB 989 is so important.

Water pollution from leaking underground fuel storage tanks is also a major concern for many communities. In addition to the guarantees for clean air, SB 989 also requires that critically important improvements be made to underground fuel storage tanks in order to prevent future gasoline leaks.

Together these provisions promise to deliver real progress on a critical issue for all Californians.

SB 989 will:

- Keep our current air quality standards, so we will continue to reduce smog and air pollution in California.
- Fix underground gasoline containers that are leaking chemicals into our soil and water supplies.
- Ensure that gasoline will continue to be available at reasonable prices.
- Ensure that gasoline will meet clean burning air quality standards as the State of California phases out MTBE, a gasoline additive.

SB989 was passed by both houses and now awaits the signature of Governor Gray Davis. What you can do to help is write a letter of support for SB989 to Governor Gray Davis. Governor Gray Davis has 10 days to sign this important piece of legislation or it will not become law. You can reach Governor Davis by mail at: Governor Gray Davis, Office of the Governor, 1st Floor State Capitol, Sacramento, CA 95814.

To Be Equal

Huge B. Price

By Hugh B. Price
National Urban League President

Oseola McCarty, the Mississippi laundress who for all but the last four years of her life traveled beyond the boundaries of her own block but whose vision and compassion was as vast as the world, died last week apparently of liver cancer. She was 91.

In 1995 Miss McCarty captured the world's attention when she willed $150,000 of her life savings to the nearby University of Southern Mississippi to create a scholarship fund for poor African-American students.

Miss McCarty's extraordinary gesture to give others the opportunity to live better lives--she herself had to leave school in the sixth grade to care for an ailing mother, grandmother and aunt--brought her well-deserved adulation from an astonished public.

Among many honors, she received the Presidential Citizen's Medal, the nation's second-highest civilian award, an honorary doctorate from Harvard University,

Oseola McCarty: Keeper of the Faith and an honorary degree of nursing from the Baptist Hospital School of Nursing, in Memphis, Tenn. (As a child, Miss McCarty had wanted to become a nurse.)

The National Urban League gladly joined that parade, awarding her our "Community Heroes Award" at our Equal Opportunity Day Dinner in November, 1995 and choosing her picture to grace the cover of the first issue of our newly-revived Opportunity Journal magazine the following summer.

At first glance it might have seemed that Oseola McCarty's story captured so much attention--she was continually feted throughout the last years of her life--because she, a woman of no "position" in society, would have saved such an amount, and then, given most of it away.

In fact, Oseola McCarty captured the world's attention and admiration because she made us realize that her riches were not the money she had amassed. We realized that her true wealth lay in the huge reservoir she possessed of what I call the philanthropic spirit.

By that I mean something more than a mere willingness to help others. The philanthropic spirit is an individual's determination to help others without thought of compensation for one's self. This is what drove Oseola McCarty to save and save, and then use it to help others.

Miss McCarty, in her gentle, kindly way, was a woman with a vision that she was determined to bring to fruition.

Oseola McCarty's true wealth sprang from her belief that as much as she was able she had a responsibility to help others: She recognized, in other words, that she was her brothers' keeper, her sisters' keeper.

Her example has borne fruit not only in the nine students at the university now benefiting from her generosity. Since her gift was announced, contributions from more than 600 donors have added some $330,000 to Southern Mississippi's Oseola McCarty Endowed Scholarship Fund.

True, Miss McCarty's gift was made even more dramatic by the historical resonance: A Mississippian who was African-American, born during the era when the state was, racially speaking, a closed society, had willed her money to an institution which in her youth would have not admitted her to a course of study.

But Miss McCarty, while not overlooking the past, looked beyond it. She was motivated by a common humanity--that is, by what she knew we all have in common with one another. She showed us that this faith in humanity, by which humanity moves forward, is inextinguishable.

By her example, Miss McCarthy also focused more attention on other people like her, people with ordinary jobs and no "position" in society who've also had been motivated by the philanthropic spirit to save and give away extraordinary amounts of money.

And she underscored a point made by the scholar and foundation director Emmett D. Carson in an essay in the Urban League's 1998 volume of The State of Black America that, though it is largely expressed differently, African-Americans have as deep and vibrant commitment to philanthropy as other Americans.

Miss McCarty's greatest contribution, however, may have been one that is simple to declare, but profound to accept and act upon: She reminded us that, to cite that old saying, what counts is not the size of the pocketbook or the vault, but the size of the heart.

After she became famous, some of her admirers apparently listened to Miss McCarty's words as if receiving wisdom from an oracle. But, as New York Times wrote in its obituary, her insights were the result of common decency and common sense.

For example, she once said "There's a lot of talk about self-esteem these days." It seems pretty basic to me. If you want to feel proud of yourself, you've got to do things you can feel proud of. Feelings follow actions."

Jewel Tucker, the assistant to the president of the University of Southern Mississippi who became Miss McCarty's traveling companion in the years since the gift, told the New York Times. "People treated her like a monument. But she was really a movement. It will keep moving."

That's one more reason to be grateful for the most important gift Oseola McCarty gave the world: her life.

Landrum and Miller Protests Still Draw Crowds

described the negative treatment she received from some Black women. Landrum said, "all I wanted to do was give them a flyer of upcoming events regarding my sons shooting. I want you to know I am still grieving today from the shooting of my son by police officers. It hurts to see police officers smile while we are protesting. I hurt everyday and I'm not going to stop. I'm an activist now because you have made me and activist. I will not stay home anymore. For all those women of color who do not take my flyer today, tomorrow it will be your son or daughter if we don't get justice now," she cried. Irvin Landrum, Jr., was shot by the Claremont police officers in January 1999.

Larry Holdstedler, a member of the Miller Steering Committee said, "the remark I'm about to make is my own and not of the committee. I want Chief Carroll to resign and be followed by the Mayor, city council members and District Attorney Graver Trask bringing up the caboose."

The Rev. Burnell Butler, spokesperson for the Miller family and a member of the Miller steering committee was quick to point out that Halstead's remarks was not that of the committee. Butler went on to say he salutes Chief Carroll because he did fire the four officers and no one else has done anything. In Butler's earlier remarks he said, "They (the city) don't want us to march in the streets without permits. If they can kill our children in the streets, surely we can march in the streets. What do we want!!!" Justice, the crowd responded!!! He continued: "The city wants us to leave. Well I'm not going to leave until the conditions change. I'm not going to leave until justice is served. I'm not going to leave until the police practices change. My father help build this city hall. I can't leave. Martin Luther King, III was put in jail here. I can't leave until Tyisha's killers have been brought to Justice. I can't leave until every child is safe from police brutality."

Family Talks

Joseph A. Bailey, II M.D.

Using education to shatter the bonds of a master-slave mentality still common among many Afro-Americans has been the life's work of my Dad, my Mother, and now me. This is an extremely tough job because of prior circumstances that created a cultural way of life. The master-slave relationship that existed for 200 years before the Civil War was a one-way street. The slave was made to do whatever the master wanted. For self-preservation the slave had to understand the master, but the master was under no obligation to understand the slave. The Relationship Was Created By Force (In Contrast To Other Minorities Who Entered The USA) And Was Maintained By Force. The mind of the slaves had to meet and bend to the mind of the master.

Not surprisingly, children of masters were involved with the ideas of dominance and receiving unquestioned obedience from slaves. On the other hand, slaves were taught to give respect and docile obedience to the masters -- similar to the military recruit-drill sergeant way. As a result, rebelling against White authority has carried over into some of today's militant youth behaviors. An effective way to develop obedience attitudes in slaves was to keep them ignorant. There were laws against educating slaves. Understandably, formal education counter-measures had spotty beginnings. Prior to the Civil War there were a few private pay schools for Negroes which were organized and supported by free Negroes in the North and Middle West. One such school was opened by a Negro woman in New Orleans in 1835. Although the efforts were praiseworthy, such schools had an uncertain existence and barely scratched the surface.

The first stage in the education of Negroes after the Civil War was the period of temporary army and mission schools which attempted to provide the liberated slaves with the rudiments of education until such time as complete school systems could be established. It was in connection with the churches that education for Negroes made the greatest advance. Not only did the churches foster most of the first Negro schools, but in many cases the preachers were also the teachers. The church building was frequently the school house. The first "colleges" for Negroes established by the Freedmen's Bureau, the American Missionary Association, and independent efforts at the close of the Civil War were in fact more like elementary and secondary schools than colleges. Buildings and equipment were grossly inadequate, teachers were few and often poorly trained, financial support was meager and frequently non-existent, and the student were largely illiterate when admitted.

Yet, these horrible beginnings were the foundation upon which many modern, fully accredited colleges have been built. Some, however, were unable to survive and passed out of existence. The heroic men and women who sought to bring the blessings of education to the liberated slaves deserve great credit. As stated in my Dad's book they had as their lot only prejudice and ostracism, and an infinite amount of hard work. Their only reward was a high sense of duty well done.

Black Culture Foundation Recognize 1999 Black Rose Recipients

The Black Voice News

SAN BERNARDINO

The San Bernardino Black Culture Foundation received many nominations for the 1999 Black Rose and Humanitarian of the Year Awards. The Awards are given for continuous service to the Black community in a variety of areas, including education, health, science, the arts, community service, law, sports, and philanthropy. The honorees are chosen for their achievements in the community, of giving of themselves unconditionally, not looking for self-gratification.

This year, the Black Rose Award honorees are:

Robert Hampton - Community Activist - Mr. Hampton, who served both in Korea and Vietnam, retired as Staff Sergeant with the U.S. Air Force. During his military career he was awarded several Commendation Medals and Citations. He was ordained in 1973 at Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church and now serves as Deacon at New Hope Missionary Baptist Church. Bob has worked for years to make the Delmann Heights neighborhood a better place to live. He works with his neighbors, code enforcement officers, city police, and anyone else that he feels will help in his efforts for this neighborhood. Mr. Hampton was the initial person to begin the Neighborhood Watch Program for the Westside community of San Bernardino, serving as Chairperson for this organization. He is tenacious and thoroughly dedicated to his personal examples. This talented author of four books, was the County's first African-American teacher, teaching principal, administrating principal, and later to become Superintendent of Schools, the first in the State of California. Miss Inghram was born in San Bernardino to one of the first Black families to settle in this area. This family made up the founding members of St. Paul

CA. Department of Health Services Recognizes Lagrant

The Black Voice News

LOS ANGELES

The California Department of Health Services (CDHS) recently recognized Lagrant Communications at the African American Immunization Summit for developing an award-winning advertising campaign for the State of California. The agency received an "Innovations in Immunization" award for the immunization campaign "Parent's...It's Your Responsibility." The radio and billboard campaign encourages parents to immunize their children at two, four, six, 12, and 15 months.

"We recognized Lagrant Communication because of the role they played as a partner in educating the African American community about the importance of immunizations," stated Natalie J. Smith, MD, MPH, chief of the Immunization Branch for CDHS. "Since we were so pleased with the final product, the image has been adopted as an integral part of our immunization outreach."

Lagrant Communications designed the advertising campaign in 1997 as a three-month campaign. Since 1997, the campaign has been adopted by several counties within the state to increase awareness in parents and other caregivers of children under the age of two, about the importance of timely childhood immunizations.

"We were very surprised to find out that we were receiving an award for a campaign we created over two years ago," explained Kim L. Hunter, president/CEO, Lagrant Communications. "It feels good to know that clients appreciate the hard work that goes into developing a campaign and produces the desired results."

Our Bodies

Ernest C. Levister, Jr., M.D.
F.A.C.P. F.A.C.P.M.

Dear Dr. Levister: Why do older people fall?

CM

Dear CM: When you're three you run, you fall and you get back up. It's a part of your life. When you're 65+ a fall can mean disability, dependence and even death.

About one out of three people over 65 falls each year, with one fall in 20 leading to a fracture, generally of the hip, wrist, arm or leg. Of all the falls the 240,000 hip fractures that occur each year in people over 50 cause the greatest number of health problems and the most deaths. Half of all older adults hospitalized for hip fracture cannot return home or live independently after the injury. People 85 and older are 10 to 15 times more likely to fracture their hip in a fall than those 60 to 65.

Poor muscle tone and balance, deteriorating vision, incorrect eyeglass prescriptions, age-related decline in reflexes, and taking certain medications or a combination of drugs are all known to cause or contribute to falls in older adults.

You can help to prevent falls by exercising regularly to improve strength and balance. Alerting your doctor to any of your medications that may be causing dizziness, drowsiness, or disorientation. Make changes at home, such as installing grab bars in the bath and shower area and removing scatter rugs. This will help to reduce one's chances of falling. 60% of the fatal falls occur in the home. Wearing sturdy shoes with non-slip soles, adequately lighting stairwells, using nightlights and clearing clutter are all good ways to lower the risk of falling at home.

Remember vigilance pays off in preventing falls.

with the selection of students to be awarded scholarships. Ever is a member of the Black Educator Employee's Association and holds an executive board position in the association as the Classified Employee Representative.

Carolyn Annette Tillman - Special Assistant to the Superintendent San Bernardino County Schools - As an educator and community partner, Carolyn is an active leader and champion of the African-American community. As Special Assistant to the Superintendent, Ms. Tillman plays a vital role as liaison to education, government and service organizations. Her leadership abilities have contributed to the implementation of school safety/violence reduction programs. Carolyn participates in diversity projects such as the San Bernardino County Diversity Committee, Bloomington High School Diversity Task Force, San Bernardino County Sun Diversity Committee and the San Bernardino City Unified School District Diversity Committee. Her leadership abilities were also evident as past president of the National Council of Negro Women, Inland Empire Section. Her personal achievements are demonstrated by key roles in organizations such as the San Bernardino County Association of African-American Employees and as a member of the Inland Empire African-American Chamber of Commerce. A member of New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, "she is a highly-intelligent, spiritual woman who is a compassionate advocate of children and cares deeply for her community. She is a virtuous woman of God."

Ms. Tillman has a determination to bring the needs of students in the African-American community to the forefront of educational and social issues county wide. This year two recipients received the Juanita H. Scott Humanitarian of the Year Award. This award was presented to:

Roylestine Bowman - Teacher (retired San Bernardino City School District - Ms. Bowman has helped many African-American graduating seniors go to college. Her most stringent efforts are to those students who do not make the top SAT scores, but those whom she sees as having possibilities for success. She works directly with many Black colleges to persuade them to accept these students. Roylestine works equally as hard to find financial assistance for the student, either by providing personal funding, seeking funds through her sorority, church, and community organizations. She arranges for students to take the college tour during spring break to acquaint them with college life and the potentials of achieving a degree. Because of her success in working with these young people, many colleges will accept the students on her recommendation. Ms. Bowman is an active member of 16th Street Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Elizabeth Wilson - Teacher (retired) Colton Unified School District - Mrs. Wilson spends many hours, on a daily basis, assisting the sick, the home restricted, and anyone who needs help in her community. She helps in various ways by providing transportation, preparing food, or just stopping by the hospital or a home to visit and give support. Many times she has stayed overnight with a person who is ill and alone. Anyone who needs her help can expect to see her drive up in a 1972 station wagon, loaded with whatever supplies that may be needed. She is a faithful member of New Hope Missionary Baptist Church in San Bernardino. She assists the community with total modesty and without seeking rewards.

Elizabeth is a true Christian woman whose service is for the well being of the people in her community. She is an affiliate of many organizations but her main duty is to help others.

The Black Rose Dinner was held recently in San Bernardino.

The honorees were feated at the Black Rose Dinner held recently in San Bernardino.

Middle School in Riverside, Clark has served as the department chair for the past 15 years as well. In addition she has been the grant coordinator for English-Language arts for five years. She is a 1976 graduate of Cal State with a B.A. in history and she earned her M.A. in school administration in 1987.

Announcing her selection, Cal State President Albert Karnig observed, "Lois Clark is a wonderful example of the dedication and determination demonstrated by so many of our alumni in the field of education. As the third largest teacher-preparation institution in the state--and among the 10 largest in the nation--Cal State, San Bernardino estimates that more than 10,000 of its alumni-- nearly one third-are doing the remarkably important work of educating our children."

Nominated for the award by her colleagues, Clark is said to be inexhaustible in her devotion to her craft--the teaching of reading and writing. She is an inspirational mentor to other teachers and a passionate advocate for all students, her peers say. One notes that in Clark's capacity as a member of the California Reading and Literature Project's policy board, she has proposed the establishment of an African Literacy Institute to increase literacy among students.

"I feel extremely honored to have been selected by my district for this award," Clark said. "It is important to recognize and celebrate accomplished teachers who are making a difference in our schools."

The CSU award is sponsored by The CSU Alumni Council, which will hold an event for the nearly two-dozen honorees from the system's campuses in September at The CSU Chancellor's Office, where they will be recognized by the Board of Trustees. Cal State, San Bernardino's selection was made by a committee composed of representatives from the Riverside and San Bernardino County Superintendents' offices, the associate dean in the College of Education at Cal State, Iris Riggs, and Darleen Stoner, a professor of environmental education and the selection committee's chair.

This is the first undertaking of The CSU Alumni Council to celebrate the successes of its nearly 2 million alumni. The 1999-2000 academic year has been dubbed CSU Celebrating Teachers.

Wiley Named Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs

The Black Voice News

CLAREMONT

J. W. Wiley has been named Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs in the Provost's office at Claremont Graduate University. In this new position, Wiley will be responsible for directing the recruitment effort of the graduate school.

Wiley will also continue as director of the Diversity Office for CGU and as director of the McNair Scholars Program. The program, which was established in 1986 by the U.S. Department of Education to encourage low-income and underrepresented students to pursue graduate studies at the doctoral level, recently received a federal four-year grant of $850,000.

During his six years at CGU, Wiley has been active in working with underrepresented students, both in recruitment and retention efforts. He has worked in the Office of Black Student Affairs, founded the Minority Mentor Program, served as a member and chair of the CGS Diversity Task Force and was a co-coordinator of the eighth annual National Black Graduate Student Conference, which was hosted by Claremont Graduate University in 1996.

Wiley is nearing completion of studies for the Ph.D. degree in Philosophy and Cultural Studies at CGU. He received his bachelor's degree in philosophy at California State University, Long Beach, and has lectured at Cerritos College, San Bernardino Valley College, Claremont McKenna College, Woodbury University, and Oklahoma State University.

Claremont Graduate University is dedicated exclusively to graduate education, awarding degrees in 22 disciplines. A member of the nationally recognized Claremont Consortium, CGU offers small classes and personal attention with the facilities and academic breadth of a medium-sized university.

Ingram's Workshop Teaches Locals Leadership

The Black Voice News

SAN BERNARDINO

Rev. Dr. Gregory G.M. Ingram

The local A.M.E. Churches of the Inland Empire and the leadership of their congregations were feted with a two day leadership seminar, with workshop leader Rev. Dr. Gregory G. M. Ingram pastor of Oak Grove AMEC in Detroit, MI.

The idea was the brainchild of Rev. Alvin Smith of St. Paul who enlisted support from sister churches. The pastors eagerly agreed to have their officers and those wanting to be officers be trained. The third day of the workshop was dedicated to men, called the Master's Men. Men were reminded of their Biblical responsibilities. Men also learned empowerment of the home, church and community. The Master's Men Ministry is a new organization at St. Paul based on Ingram's book.

The workshop was based on two other books authored by Ingram, LEAP Leaders Expectations, Actions and Principals and The Seven S's for Saints and Officers and Leaders in the Local Church.

"I was writing like crazy. He has such rich material for leadership. It inspired me," said Rev. Shermella Egson of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Riverside. Egson also explained hers went a little deeper. "This was mandatory training for each of my ministers and they have to now come back and teach the Trustees and the Stewards in the church. Leadership is more than membership. It is easy to be a member but leadership takes talent and training," she said.

The workshop was also mandatory for the other churches as it prepared them for the new millennium.

Rev. Smith said, "he (Ingram) was challenging and thought provoking. He stimulated our men to take on new leadership roles in the church and in the community, and gave a new focus to officers."

Rev. Al Smith, St. Paul A.M.E., San Bernardino, Rev. Shermella Garrett-Egson, Allen Chapel A.M.E., Betty Hanna Witherspoon, Allen Chapel, San Bernardino, Rev. Mary Jamerson-Polk, Rev. Anna Stevens, St. Paul A.M.E., Rev. Michael Barta, Quinn A.M.E., Moreno Valley and Rev. Gregory Ingram (seated).

Harris Hit in Head on Collision, Still Plans Husband's 18th Anniversary

The Black Voice News

SAN BERNARDINO

By Cheryl Brown

Carolyn Harris, is praising God and being very still since a head on collision totaled her car last Wednesday. Harris is the wife of radio personality Bro. Roy, who is celebrating his 18th anniversary on KUOR radio.

Harris was on her way to a early morning prayer meeting from her home in Moreno Valley through the Reche Canyon shortcut when a man driving an older model large car fell asleep and came directly at her. There was nowhere for her to go. As he hit her, her car rolled over and over and over the embankment an undetermined number of times. "I remember I was saying to the Lord very calmly that the car was rolling and that he should put his arms of protection around me. You see when I was hit I was praying and listening to gospel music. I was going to a prayer meeting so I was praying." When she came to a rest the man who hit her was so nervous he couldn't help her. The car landed upside down and she asked him (the other driver) to put his arm out so she could pull herself out of the car. She also got some help from a woman who was driving behind her. No one, the driver who hit her, the police or the paramedics could believe she walked out of the car with just a scratch and some body aches.

"Someone had a cell phone and I called my husband who was asleep,

Reaching and Restoring at 2nd Baptist

The Black Voice News

REDLANDS

The Second Baptist Church of Redlands continues to make history unfold as the 107 year old church will celebrate the calling back of former pastors Anthony and Jackie Green, who formerly served the church for twelve years (1983-1985). The Green's are no stranger to the Redlands community or the Inland Empire Churches. They have returned with their four children, Elyzabeth, Joel Joseph and Joshua Green, as well as fresh ideas for becoming a House of Prayer, community transformation, racial healing in the community, church growth and restoration, deliverance ministry, radical ministry for youth and children, strong families, and most of all reaching the lost souls in our city with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The celebration will begin on Saturday, October 16th with a Youth Explosion Outreach at Texonia Park. Youth and young adults from the Second Baptist Church and Inland Empire will be witnessing, dancing, rapping and performing step team ministry. The Word of God will be preached by youthful Warren Stewart, Jr. of Phoenix, Arizona and Founder of H.Y.P.E. (Holy Young People Evangelizing) Festivities begin at 7:00 p.m., Come as you are.

Sunday, October 17th, worship services are at 11:00 am at the church with Prophet Cathy Fontenot of Palmdale, CA preaching. The church will have a church picnic from 12-3:00 p.m. followed by the 6:00 p.m. service at Oasis Christian Fellowship, 304 N. 7th Avenue in Redlands. The guest speaker will be Dr. Warren H. Stewart, Sr. Pastor of the First Institutional Baptist Church of Phoenix, Arizona. There will be several guest churches attending from throughout the Inland Empire.

On Wednesday, October 20th, there will be a joint Prayer Service of several Inland Empire Churches, with Dr. H. Hubbard, Pastor of the Community Baptist Church of Redlands bringing the message at 7:00 p.m.

The concluding Installation Services will be on Sunday, October 24th at the Second Baptist Church at 4:00 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Robert Fairley, Pastor of New Hope Baptist Church of San Bernardino.

On Saturday, October 23rd, at 6:30 p.m., Second Baptist Music Ministry will sponsor a homecoming musical featuring several guest choirs from churches and gospel music artist.

Second Baptist Church of Redlands is one of the oldest churches in the Inland Empire.

The church faces much challenge as they go into the new millennium but, they are not looking back and focusing on the past history, but they are committed to being history makers by shaping the future with a hope in Jesus Christ for many more generations.

The public is invited to join in the celebration of a "pastor and people" reaching and restoring lives for nearly 107 years.

The church is located at 420 East Stuart Avenue in Redlands. For more information, contact the church office at (909) 793-1074 or Ellena Richey, Chairperson at (909) 792-3258.

Sugar Shane Says Move over Oscar and Tito

Mosley knocks out Rivera.

By LELAND STEIN III
Black Voice News Sports Editor

TEMECULA - Many of the 3,647 in attendance at the Pechanga Entertainment Center thought Sugar Shane Mosley should have engaged an easier opponent for his first fight in the welterweight division.

Don't question Mosley!!

He and his father, who doubles as his trainer, knew exactly what they were doing when they relinquished the IBF lightweight title belts he successfully defended eight times.

In his biggest payday to date, $760,000, the Pomona native knocked out tough Puerto Rican fighter Wilfredo Rivera, now 30-4-1, in the 10th round.

Mosley, 28, is now pushing for big time paydays with Felix "Tito" Trinidad and Oscar De La Hoya.

In fighting Rivera, Mosley (32-0, 30 KO's) had to gain 12 pounds.

Conventional wisdom says when a fighter moves up in weight that drastically, they usually lose some power.

In this fight Mosley proved that he still has the hand quickness and foot speed. He also showed all, that he can power punch with the best in his weight class.

Said Mosley: "The best welterweights in the world are now Trinidad, Oscar and Sugar Shane Mosley. I showed I have welterweight hitting power tonight."

Who's to doubt him now? Mosley has now elevated himself in the conscious of the fight aficionados though out the country. With this rise in acknowledgement, Mosley is primed to joined the ranks of multi millionaire boxers.

MOVING ON UP: Mosley and his Dad gambled on a move up from lightweight to welterweight. They were so confident in themselves they gave up the IBF lightweight title to compete in the lucrative division with De La Hoya and Trinidad.

Trojans Stay in Pac-10 Race, Corral the Beavers 37-29

LOS ANGELES - Just what an ailing and bruised football team needed! Alibet it was no gimme.

Into the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum before 43,795 came the Oregon State Beavers. This was an opponent the USC Trojans really wanted and needed to see.

STEIN
III

YES, the Beavers were 3-0 coming into the contest; however, there is a USC monkey on the back of the Beavers that's as heavy as a 20-ton semi-truck.

If any college team has ever had a personal patty, it's the Trojans versus Oregon State. The numbers are staggering:

*USC leads the series 52-7-4 since 1914.

*USC has won 25 consecutive games, dating back to 1967.

*During the Trojan's streak they have outscored the Beavers 954-239 (the average score per game has been 38-10).

Something had to give in this battle of long-time Pac-10 rivals. The Beavers were ranked in the Top 20 in the country in many of the offensive categories. They also boasted the nation's rushing and scoring leader in sophomore running back Ken Simonton. Meanwhile, the Trojans were ranked in the Top 20 in many of the nation's defensive categories.

Any team that has had to endure the humiliation of losing to a team 25 consecutive times deserved a break (win), right?

The Trojans wasn't having any of that feel sorry for the Beavers stuff!

Like a runaway freight train, USC steamrolled over Oregon State. The Trojans played the take-a-way game with the Beavers. USC converted three turnovers into 21 points to take a 37-7 fourth quarter lead over the the eager Beavers.

Suddenly, it was social hour in the press box. It was time to go get another bag of peanuts or another bowl of fruit salad. But, just as suddenly, someone stuck a log on the railroad tracks of the Trojans' freight train. The USC machine came to a grinding halt.

The eager Beavers went to work constructing an offensive and defensive damn which shut down USC.

Reversal of fortune was the tune played out on the stage of the Coliseum.

Although USC (3-1 overall, 1-1 Pac-10) won the contest 37-29, their fourth quarter collapse left all in wonderment.

Oregon State (3-1, 0-1) scored 22 unanswered fourth quarter points, over running the Trojans in every facet of the game.

"I don't know what happened at the end of this game," said the somewhat confused USC coach Paul Hackett. "We just sunk into a... I don't know."

"No matter what happened at the end, I don't want to minimize our victory. This was a great win for us after last week (the disappointing loss to Oregon). I think the defense played great and the offense played as good as it has all season."

Added USC quarterback Mike Van Raaphorst, who is starting in place of injured starter Carson Palmer: "As Oregon State cameback, it reminded me of the Cal game last year (a USC loss). We have to realize when we have a team down we have to bury them. We have to get people down 55-0 before we can sit back and enjoy it."

Getting USC back on track was middle linebacker Zeke Moreno, who did his best Chris Claiborne impression, running a second quarter fumble (caused by Ennis Davis) in for a 17-yard touchdown. Then he intercepted a third quarter pass and raced 71-yards for his second touchdown of the day.

"It was a long way," said Moreno of his interception return. "I just put up both my hands and it stuck to my glove."

R. Jay Soward chipped in with a first quarter 85-yard punt return, which Hackett called "as fine a return as you're ever going to see."

Finally, Morton won the battle of dueling running backs rushing for 153 yards and a touchdown. The Beavers' Simonton gained 127 yard and scored from one yard out.

"We didn't do somethings right at the end," Hackett said, "but I don't want to minimize this win. The conference is anyone's for the taking. Considering all, this was a great win for us."

BIG PLAY MAN: USC's R. Jay Soward returned a punt 85-yards against Oregon State to help the Trojans beat the Beavers at the Coliseum.

CLAIBORNE REVISITED: USC's Zeke Moreno (#9), shown sacking Oregon State's quarterback, has stepped in nicely for All-American Chris Claiborne. With Chris on the sideline Moreno scored on an interception return and a fumble return.

Mambo No. 5 is RCA's Next Bega Thing as Single Top Charts

The Black Voice News

NEW YORK

Remember the "Macarena?" Get ready to "Mambo." From RCA Records, the label that brought you both "Dirty Dancing" and the Macarena comes the latest global phenomenon. Lou Bega's "Mambo No. 5" is seducing listeners around the world, where it tops the charts in 15 countries... and is now setting its sights on conquering America. The single has already topped two million in worldwide sales—a million in Germany alone—where the double platinum hit has topped the country's pop charts for weeks. Due to the demand, Bega's debut album, "A Little Big of Mambo," which includes the international sensation, hits retail shelves this Tuesday (8/24) with a full-on in-store marketing campaign that includes flats bin cards, ad mats and promotional buttons to trumpet the arrival of Bega and his trend-setting "Mambo" to these shores.

American radio is already doing the "Mambo," making the record #1 Most Added at Top 40 last week, as Americans discover something Europe has already found out for themselves—The "Mambo" is back!

Bega himself cuts a suave and debonair figure, bringing back the romance to pop with his pin-stripe suit, polka-dot pocket handkerchief, spit-polished spats and Borsalino hat, a throwback to the "true gentlemen" of the

'30s and '40s. The son of a Ugandan father and Sicilian mom, he incorporates elements of Afro-Cuban rhythms, swing, soul and hip-hop into his music, with a nod towards his idol Perez Prado, the Cuban Mambo King on such unabashedly buoyant and positive songs as "Got A Girl" and "Baby Keep Me Smiling."

The self-admitted admirer of women ("Mambo No. 5" pays tribute to Monica, Erica and Rita, among others), Bega will be arriving on these shores to hit the talk-show circuit on the "Regis & Kathie Lee" and "Rikki Lake" shows September 1, with press already including an endorsement from Rolling Stone's "On The Radio" column and USA Today.

"There is nothing better than to go out and dance the mambo," enthuses Bega. "With the right partner at your side, the fire is alive."

Aretha Tells All in From These Roots

The Black Voice News

Her soulful, soaring voice has earned her mythic status. Now, in her own moving words, the woman behind the myth is revealed. The result is Aretha: From These Roots (Villard Books), a captivating self-portrait of one of this century's most fascinating artists, an Aretha Franklin as real as the songs she sings. And she tells it like it is, the way she sees it, the way she lived it.

For the first time anywhere, Aretha tells the story of her meteoric rise from singing gospel in her father's church in Detroit to topping the charts and winning fifteen Grammys, the most ever for a female performer. It's all here -- the glorious triumphs and the heart-breaking pain.

Born three months after the attack on Pearl Harbor, Aretha was a child prodigy of the golden age of gospel, anointed the successor to such gospel greats as Mahalia Jackson and Clara Ward. The daughter of a world-famous preacher, her father always believed in her and her gift, telling Aretha that "someday you'll sing for kings and queens." As Aretha writes, "Pride was something Daddy gave us in abundance. I never felt inferior or less than. I was blessed to grow up in an environment where self-worth was underscored."

In Aretha: From These Roots, the singer paints in rich detail a vivid picture of the Detroit of her childhood, a Detroit long gone: the storefront churches, the basement parties, the evenings at the Arcadia roller rink, and the explosive R&B shows. She documents her life as a single teenage mother, working to balance home life with career, coping with two challenging marriages and, later, romantic relationships that were the source of both tremendous joy and unforeseen heartache.

Along the way, we meet the characters who lit up her life: her charismatic father, the Reverend C.L. Franklin, "the man with the million-dollar voice;" Sam Cooke, the man of her dreams; her singing sisters Erma and Carolyn; her manager brother, Cecil; the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr.,

Aretha Franklin

who surprised Aretha by coming to Aretha Franklin Day in Detroit in February 1968 (sadly, the last time Aretha saw Dr. King alive); and her famous colleagues -- Smokey Robinson, Marvin Gaye, the Temptations, Luther Vandross, and Luciano Pavarotti -- as well as some famous rivals.

By the age of eighteen she had signed with Columbia Records where she recorded several albums (with a few minor hits) and toured extensively around America. She writes: "Looking back, I see that I was also developing a vocal signature. It wasn't anything I did consciously. And it wasn't part of the plan. It was simply me." At age twenty-four, she switched to Atlantic Records and it was here that Aretha blossomed as a musician. Playing the piano and handling the arrangements herself, she sang songs that shook the world to its roots.

In Aretha: From These Roots, Aretha Franklin emerges as a triumphant woman of rare wit, willing to share with us her passion for great music, great food, and great love affairs. Her book does more than illuminate some of the most exciting songs ever sung; it lets you into the heart and mind of the mesmerizing woman who sang them. Simply put, this is the journey of Aretha's life in her own words.

Not In Mama's Kitchen

April Scott, shown with her five-year-old daughter, Arianna Carr, signs her "Not In Mama's Kitchen" commitment card pledging to keep her home free of tobacco smoke. The "Not In Mama's Kitchen" campaign, launched throughout California by the African American Tobacco Education Network (AATEN), calls attention to the dangers of secondhand smoke, particularly in African American communities. Secondhand smoke is thought to be a major contributor to the current asthma epidemic affecting African American children. Call the African American Tobacco Education Network at 1-888-44-AATEN for more information.

Calico Ghost Town

Thirty-two years ago Calico Days began. Its purpose was to celebrate Calico Ghost Town's wild west past - the discovery of silver ore in 1881, growth to boomtown status, and visits by the famous borax mule teams and the likes of Wyatt Earp.

Today, Calico Days is rough and ready as always. The celebration runs October 8, 9 and 10 in the tiny ghost town just north of Barstow, CA. Its many events include a steak fry and dance Friday evening at 6 p.m., an 1880's costume parade featuring members of the Earp famiy on Saturday at high noon, and a wild burro race on Sunday at 11 a.m. followed at 1 p.m. by the finals to the National Gunfight Stunt Championships.

In addition, egg tossin, greased pole climbing and bucket brigade contests are among some of the many events designed to transport participants back in time to Calico's "glory days." Free to enter, all offer ribbons as prizes and stories to tell about when arriving home.

Information on Calico Days is available by visiting its website at www.calicotown.com or calling Calico at 1-800-TO-CALICO. Admission to all-day activities and evening dances is $7 for adults and $4 for youth 6 yrs. thru 15 yrs. Children and parking are free.

The historic town is easy to reach. Take I-15 to the Ghost Town Road exit located 10 miles north east of Barstow and follow the signs.

Support Groups

The Community Counseling Center at Cal State, San Bernardino is making appointments for adults facing such issues as depression, anxiety, traumatic life changes, relationship problems and eating disorders. A $10 fee is charged for each 50-minute counseling session. For more information, call the Community Counseling Center at (909) 880-5569.

October 18th, 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm, Free living trust seminar will be held at the Highland Senior Center. For more information or reservations, call (909) 862-8104.

Volunteers Needed

The San Bernardino Child Advocacy Program needs caring individuals to provide mentoring and advocacy services to children in the foster care system. Pick the phone and call now: (909) 881-6760. Be a small part of their life now and they will be a big part of your future.

REQUEST FOR STATEMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

The Rialto Unified School District is requesting Statement of Qualifications (SOQ), for architectural services for:

Category 'A' - A new middle school
Category 'B' - A new elementary school
Category 'C' - Various renovation projects throughout the District.

As a minimum qualification, submitting firms must have completed in the last five years, the construction phase of the appropriate category depending on how the SOQ is structured:

A. Two comprehensive California public middle schools
B. Two comprehensive California public elementary schools
C. Five California State Funded renovation/modernization projects.

Submitting firms must declare in an attached cover letter, which category of projects the SOQ will address. All experience must be by the submitting firm. Experience by individuals while working with other firms must be identified as such and will be considered at the District's discretion.

Submitting firms must be able to comply with the State of California Disabled Veteran Business Enterprise (DVBE) guidelines as established by the State Allocation Board (SAB). If you do not know how to reach the OPSC's web site to obtain the latest DVBE forms, you may contact Jerry Vincent at (909) 820-7700, Ext. 282 to receive a mailed copy.

Please submit five copies of the Statement of Qualifications to:
